m Our Special Correspondent, BUENOS AYRES, S. A., Aug. 14, 1866. BUENOS ATRES, S. A., Aug. 14, 1866.
The wast plains of South America have never been cultivated. Their treeless wastes have drunk the dows and rains, and in return they have given back exhaustless supplies of unfading verdure. Wild animals of various supplies of unfading verdure. Wild animals of various forms and in countless kordes have subsisted upon it, and the bones of grass-feeding tribes from the beginning of the tertiary system down to the present time abound in these allovial doposits. Now, they are traversed in immunerable droves and herds of horses, cattle and sheep, as they have been for more than 200 years. In late years the value of all animal products has so risen that it is a question how the product of the product that they are the value of all animal products has so risen that it is a question how the product the pro all animal products has so risen that it is a question how can a league be made to produce the largest return of animal products. Manufacturers in other countries send here their orders for hides, horns, hair, hoofs, bones, bones, beer, mutton, animal guano, tallow and oil, so that there is no part of any animal but has a value in market. The smallness of the number of streams in the Argentine Confederation, is much against its plains as good lands for pasturage, but every house has a well deep enough to have water always for the trouble of drawing. The numerous small lakes with which the pampas abound, and the dull, singgish streams which are found everywhere in the wet season, make the period for watering animals to be short. So well filled is the Province of Buenos Ayres with herds and flocks, that there is hardly a space vacant, large enough for a nock of sheep, within 150 miles of this city.

Immigration to this part of South America exceeds, thus far in 1866, all preceding years. We have monthly arrivals of capitalists and laborers, and almost daily in-quiries from ferrign lands as to the situation, climate, nat-tral productions. quiries from foreign lands as to the situation, climate, natural productions, and openings for work. Mans in the United States are turning their eyes in this direction, and in the last two years arrivals are more numerous than ever before both from the North and the South, In this state of things there is no doubt but an occasional column of information on these subjects would be generally copied and eagerly read in both America and Europe. I propose therefore to give accurate information on all these topies. I am the more induced to do this because almost every pen that writes for a foreign eye is occupied with accounts of the terrible war now in progress between Paraguay on one side and this Republic and Urugusy, and Brazil on the other.

THE PROVINCE OF BUENOS AYRES.

This province is washed on its north and north-west sides by the kiver Plate and the River Paraua. In area it has 63,600 square miles, and a population of 305,000. In climate it answers about to Georgia and Alabama. This province and Santa Fé are alone in not having any valuable mineral deposits but the situation of this for commerce, on the broad placed bay of the La Plata and its boundless and icrtile pampas, make it for commerce and agricellare and grazing all that could be desired.

The commerce of nearly all the Republic passes through this port. Ismigration from all the world toward this kepublic finds this port its landing-place. In 1865 the number of arrivals of steamers was a total of 207, exclusive of war vessels. They came from various parts of the coast and from the interior rivers, and from Paraginay, Rio de Janeiro, Southampton, Liverpool, Burdeos and Genea; were 888; departure, 923, having, respectively, a tunnage of 297, 930 and 277, 443 tuns. Beside this, during the same time, 4,281 small consting trade vessels departed from this port, hearing 111,217 tuns. The value of imported goods for 1865 at the Custom House, $27,103,015, silver, and the exported, $21,996,777 silver. Total, $29,099,793. There are four railroad stations in this city, from each one of which six to eight trains depart daily. The Northern Railroad to Correhas extends about 25 miles; the Western Railroad to Chivilooy 120, miles; the Southern Railroad to Chascomus, 90 miles; the Boca Railroad to a suburban village and port, five miles. On all these railroads the Government guarantees a dividend of 7 per cent per an-

Government guarantees a dividend of 7 per cent per annum.

There are tures colonies in this province. The oldest is that of Baradero, begun in 1856, composed of Swiss immigrants, and located about 40 leagues, north of the city of Buones Ayres, on the south side of the river Parana, and contains now about 3,000 inhabitants. Every kind of product known to the temperate rones, and most of those of the tropics, can be produced abundantly at Baradero.

The land is divided into gardens and farms. The former are 100 yards square, and the latter are 200 yards by 300.
The returns for last year show large products of mains, wheat, barley, potatoes, sweet potatoes, peas, beans, butter, cheese, eggs, leaving unmentioned many other products of the garden and farm. There are 322 houses of brick. Among them are the various mechanics needed in a village.

brick. Among them are the various mechanics needed is a village.

It is a highly prosperous colony. The price of land now is about $100 in silver for four acres, but any one will receive a furm on condition of inclosing and cultivating it, and erecting a house on it.

The colony of San Pedro is three leagues frem Baradero to the north-west, and it also has about 3,000 inhabitants. It is in many respects like the one described above, but it is less prosperous, newer and of less promise.

Carmen de Patagones is a location of a colony that exists, thus far, on paper. It is to be at Carmen, in the extreme southern part of this Province, and it is expected to be settled also by Swiss.

Chabut is a point at the mouth of the River Chubut on the margin of Patagonia. About 150 percons from Wales are there, and great efforts are made in Wales to turn their people to South America instead of to North America, to swoul the Mormons. The colony is in its infancy, and may not be permanent.

swoid the Mormons. The colony is in its inflacey, and may not be permanent.

The chief occupations of the province are pastoral. Our 50,000,000 of sheep are divided into flocks of from 1,000 to 1,800, and each one occupies the attention of one man, in constant care; and each farm of a square league, having 10 to 15 of these flocks, also employs in various kinds of work many other persons. Our nearly 7,000,000 of cattle also would engross the attention of a large number of men. Except near the city, or at little towns, or in the colonies, there is but little of horticulture.

Such articles as can never be produced here are constantly increasing in the quantity imported, and such as are produced here are constantly decreasing in the importation. For example: coffee, not grown here, was imported for the last three years in the following augmenting proportion of value, viz: '62, $14,344; '63, $166,531; '64, $184,790. While for the same years wheat, grown here, was in these values respectively: $776,023, $171,905, $106,600.

No one should come to this country just to see what will turn up, nor to finish sowing his wild oats, nor to presume on the greenness of the natives, nor to grow rich in any war except by honest labor or by legitimate business. All others, sooner or later, make fearful failures.

BULL's HEAD, Monday, Sept. 10 .- The cattle marbet lacks an important element to-day. There are neither Jewish buyers or sellers to be seen, and so numerous is this class of operators that trade is slow in their absence. There was little difference in prices at the two market places, the quality being generally inferior at Hudson City, and the prices obtained a trifle-lower. The total sales for the week are about 5.00 head, which is a good supply, though butchers are calling for a large number of cattle at the present time. The weather could not be improved upon, but fine weather and good catte failed to make a lively market. Sheep and lambs are bed doing better in the face of increased receipts. The stock was well used up last week, and the 24,000 received since have pretty much all been sold at higher prices. Fat sheep not quickly at 7.27je., and prime lambs at 920je.—some superior state latabs are reported much higher. Hogs are advancing also, with 192 cars on the market this morfering, all of which were soud before noon at 104 & Hic. Receipts for the week are less than 9,400 head.

CONNECTICUT NEWS.

A FAITHLESS WIFE-A WOMAN ELOPES WITH $1,000

AND A GERMAN MUSICIAN. Quite a sensation was caused among the Germans of New-Haven yesterday, by the announcement of the elopement of the wife of Mr. Jacob Spreyer with a German planement of the wife of Mr. Jacob Spreyer with a German planeplayer. Mr. Spreyer formerly kept a concert saloon at No. 255 State-st. Early in the Spring, he sold the establishment to a man named Toop for $1,000, receiving one-ball in cash and the rest in a note. The money was deposited in the savings bank to the credit of Mrs. Spreyer. In due time Mr. Toop took up the note, and the money paid was also put on deposit at the same bank. For several months Mrs. Spreyer has been receiving the attention of a German named Theodore Verhoff, formerly a plane player in Spreyer's saloon. On Inesday last, after her husband had gone to work. Mrs. Spreyer sold all the furniture in their house to a second-hand farniture dealer.
She then went to the bank, drew the $1,000, and left with her paramour, it is alleged, for the West, vin New Vork City.
Mrs. Spreyer is about 35 years of age, fine looking, of good address, and speaks the English language quite well.

SPONTANEOUS COMBUSTION IN A TRUNK .- On Wednesday there was quite a lively scene for a short time in the from New-York, and while the trunks were being taken from the baggage-car, Master Scarles discovered that one of them was on fire. Very fortanately he had a key about his person, which fitted the look. When the trunk was opened, the clothes were found to be burning rapidly, and after searching for the cause of the singular accident, a bottle of phosphorus was found among the clothing, which had ignited. The trunk proved to be the property of a newly-married couple on their weeding-trip.

The money market is more active and loans on call are made at 5 per cent. Some old loans are not marked up, and upon Governments better terms are made than upon Railway shares, which form the bulk of stock collaterals. There is an increased supply of Commercial paper. Prime still passes at 5 per cent, and good at 5 26, but there is an increasing amount of a kind which holders are ready to sell at legal rates and a little better. The bank statement shows a material expansion in loans, $3,542,000, with an increase of circulation of $698,454, and a loss of $2,428,552 in legal tenders. The specie shows a gain of $1,074,310, which is the proceeds of interest upon the 10-10s. The demand for money to move the crops of the West and South is steadily increasing, and at no distant day lenders of money will be able to make legal interest at call and something better upon long paper, and speculative enterprises generally.

The railway traffic returns for August published this morning are not at all reassuring. The Illinois Central falls off $75,111; the Miwankee and St. Paul. $53,046; the Prairie du Chien. $54,388, and the McGregor Western, $3,622. No complete week in September is at hand. The Michigan Southern for the first four days shows a decrease at the rate of $100,000 on the mouth, but the visit of Gen. Grant and Admiral Parragut to Chicago assisted for traffic later in the week. The Cleveland and Toledo makes a poor report-a decrease on all the items except "foreign freight." This class, which swells the receipts nominally but adds to the expenses actually, brings the total truffic up to 1865. The business of the Illinois Central Railroad Company for August, 1866, was:

The whole cost of production is less than $6 per tun, giving a net profit of $28 per tun by the new way of working. This increased yield is from saving the fine float gold which heretofore has been lost,
